GOVERNMENT WANTS TO GET IN TOUCH WITH WOUNDED SERVICE MEN

Has Plan to Give Them Vocational Training Free

GIVES OUTLINE OF THE PLAN

All soldiers, sailors and marines discharged by reason of any physical disability and drawing compensation are to be educated through the Federal card for Vocational Education.

An announcement sent out by E. N. Moore, special district vocational officer, in charge of the ranch office for district No. 3, located in the Union Arcade Building, says:

"It is the wish of the board to get in touch with all disabled soldiers, sailors and marines, before they have been discharged from the hospitals in which they are undergoing treatment, but in the hurry of discharge, great numbers of these men have been released from service before they have been interviewed by advisors from the board. It is a very difficult matter for us to trace these men. The methods we are using at present to do this is to ask the different organizations, e. g., Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., Rotary Clubs, Chambers of Commerce, etc., to advise us immediately of their knowledge of any wounded or disabled soldier, sailor or marine who is in their district, and we then get in touch with the man and take steps to bring before him the advantages of vocational education as furnished by the United States government.

"To put it in a broader way, vocational education is furnished by the government to any man who has been in the service and who is drawing compensation, providing that the man's health permits him taking up such work at this time. In case he is not strong enough his training is held in abeyance until he feels as though he were physically able to do the required amount of studying or training necessary to fit him for remunerative employment in his selective line.

ARE WELL PLACED ON COMMITTEES

The committees of the house of representatives at Harrisburg were announced by Speaker Spangler on Thursday. The assignments of the Washington county members are as follows:

Curran—Military, railroads and corporations.
Sprawls—Railroads, (chairman), labor and industry, mines and mining.
Walker—Retrenchment and reform, counties and townships, game, public building.

A rush of ratifications has followed the announcement of an alleged fact is nevertheless of some scientific interest.

Wooden Lock Gates Are Supplanting Steel

Two standard size wooden lock gates were launched at the government boat yards at Lock Four on Wednesday, to make room for two additional gates, construction work on which is now under way. The two gates just launched will be taken to Lock No. 2 and placed in one of the lock chambers, taking the place of two steel gates, which have been badly used up by reason of so much acid in the waters.

The two new gates now under way at the local yards are part of an order of six similar structures which the government is having built to replace steel gates at the different locks along the river. It has been found that much difficulty is experienced during the low water season, when the acid is so bad in the rivers with iron and steel gates, hence the decision on the part of the United States Engineers to make the change. All of these new gates are being constructed with what are known as auxiliary wickets, by means of which it is possible to either empty or fill the lock chambers with greater rapidity, and if the valves of the locks should break down it would be possible to operate by means of these auxiliaries.

From now on the wooden gates, in all probability, will be favored for all locks, while the steel structures, which are expected to give entire satisfaction will likely be found in the discard.

SUGGESTS FEBRUARY 9 FOR ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL

Following receipt of a message from the national committee in charge, Governor Sprout on Thursday declared that it would be well if Pennsylvania municipalities which considered holding memorial services for the late Col. Theodore Roosevelt would hold such meetings February 9, the day suggested by Congress for such memorials.

MUST KEEP BOATS CLOSE TO SCHEDULE

The Carnegie Steel Company, in operating its line of tow boats on the Monongahela river, realize the importance at this time of running their steamers as near as possible to a tentative schedule. The necessity for this is found in the fact that the Clairton byproduct ovens require such immense quantities of coal to keep them in operation. This coal is all transported by water and the recent trouble at Lock No. 3 which delayed traffic for so long, was a constant source of worry to the Carnegie transportation officials, whose duty it is to keep the boats of the line operating so that coal will be constantly on hand when required.

A few days ago, just before the inner chamber at Lock Three was opened to traffic, the steamer Clingerman with a tow of six loaded barges was lying at No. 3, with a large number of boats ahead of her, all of whom had been waiting for hours. The Carnegie people needed the coal badly at Clairton, so their management got in touch with the Vesta Coal company, whose steamer Vulcan was also lying at No. 3 waiting her turn, which was to come in a very short time. A few words of explanation were sufficient and in a short time the Clingerman and the Vulcan had exchanged places. The Carnegie people got their coal through, but the Vulcan lost an additional 24 hours before she could get through with her tow. The Vesta Company carries large stocks of coal in reserve, which permitted them to accommodate the company which was in greater need of supplies.

What a difference between this winter and last. This time last year we had had seven weeks of continuous cold weather and for six weeks the river had been frozen over.

Officers Notified by Letter To Carry Out Their Duty

SEVERE PENALTIES PROVIDED

More than a thousand dogs were disposed of in Washington county last year, because they were not tax paid. These animals were put out of the way by the constables and police officers of the county, who receive one dollar for each dog disposed of. As the tax-paying period expired on the 15th of January, all dogs not now bearing a license tag will be disposed of by the officers of the law, according to the provisions of the act of assembly made and provided. The county commissioners have just sent letters to all the officers in the county, notifying them to proceed to kill all unlicensed dogs. In this letter the commissioners call attention to an act approved July 11, 1917, in which they say that all license tags of 1918 have been void since the 15th of January, 1919; that section 17 provides that it is unlawful for any person to own or harbor any dog six months old or over unless such dog is wearing a collar and a license tag for the current year.

Section 18 provides that it is the duty of every police officer to kill any dog which does not bear a proper license tag, for which you are allowed the sum of one dollar for each dog killed and buried. Section 20 provides that officers perform this duty under provisions of the act makes officers liable to a penalty of $2.00 for each offense to be deducted from any amount due the officer from the county.

Section 22 provides that it shall be unlawful for any person to harbor or permit to remain about his premises any unlicensed dog.

Section 35 provides that any person failing or refusing to comply with any of the provisions of the Act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction, sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding $100 or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding three months.

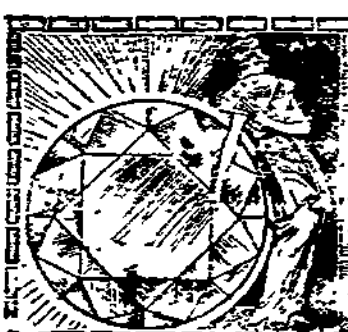

The officers are directed by the commissioners to proceed with their duty at once.

REV. KELLER IS ILL WITH INFLUENZA

Rev. C. A. Keller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, is confined to his home with an attack of influenza. Due to his illness services at his church have been called off for next Sunday, but it is planned to have the usual prayer service next Wednesday evening. Rev. Keller's son Thomas is also ill with the malady.

One of the good results of the war is that Americans have learned to dye as successfully as the most successful Germans.

FRENCH TRIBUTES

Our State Department received on January 1st, official cablegrams from the French government expressing its appreciation of the heroic deeds of the American soldiers who fought the battle of the Marne. The French government has also sent a large number of medals and decorations to the American soldiers who fought the battle of the Marne. The French government has also sent a large number of medals and decorations to the American soldiers who fought the battle of the Marne.

The tribute of the Bishop of Orleans is in the form of a letter to Miss Rosina Wolfson whose fluent French acquired as she grew up in our New Orleans fitted her for responsible war work in France, where she long served devotedly as director of a railroad canteen center at Orleans. After paying a tribute to Miss Wolfson herself, the Bishop wrote: "Your noble country has done much for us in brotherly charity. And while you are thus spending great sums of money your men are spending their lives. Ah, be very sure to tell them on the other side of the Atlantic—tell them a hundred, a thousand times what you can never cry too loudly, how splendid in their bravery are the young men of your great country, splendid beyond praise as are the soldiers of the Yser, of the Marne, of Verdun, of Champagne, of the Artois, for their can be no higher 'laudation. Dipped in the living royal purple, your flag carries not only half a hundred stars of a half a hundred States it is not alone the protecting symbol of your peace and prosperity; it has become with the Tricolor and other standards of our brotherhood, the glorious cloak thrown about the right of peoples to live, the inviolability of international treaties, and—cause more lofty still—that Christian civilization which would have suffered so grievously if acts carried out with terrible barbarity had found justification in an insolent triumph. Let those weak words of a French bishop witness his administration for two incomparable American virtues—valor and charity."

Valor and charity! Such linking of the noblest virtues in the name of America is a thing of which we are proud. But let us not forget that the field for American charity there is only too vast. Mr. Hoover reports the condition in the northern section as appalling. Whole areas have been left utterly desolate by the Germans housing as well as food and clothing being urgently needed by the hapless refugees now crowding back to the desolate ruins. We can still help triumphant but exhausted France.

WHO BROKE HINDENBURG'S LINE

There is an agreeable thrill in the news that Americans first broke through the Hindenburg line, as well as a gratifying recognition of the appropriate and the courtous in the fact that this is a deed that will be remembered for generations to come. The fighting on the whole front of the Second American Corps was severe, and amid the intense confusion of the Hindenburg line, strong bodies of the enemy moved out for many hours."

The battle of the Marne was the first battle in which the American soldiers fought. The battle of the Marne was the first battle in which the American soldiers fought. The battle of the Marne was the first battle in which the American soldiers fought.

It is planned to have most of our Expeditionary Forces returned by the end of next October, a little less than a year after the armistice was signed, a little less than two and a half years after the arrival of the first American contingents in France, and a little less than two years and seven months after hostilities began. Including reconstruction abroad and the transport of our soldiers home it will not be regarded as such a short war after all.

Referring to the rush of the ratifications of the prohibition amendment to the New York World observes that the American States are "more courageous for world liberty than for the traditional freedom of the Commonwealth."

Captain Boy-Ed says the German revolutionists are disgracing the Fatherland. They might report that they are aiming a something more than carrying coals to Newcastle.

FIRST IRON BARGE STILL IN SERVICE

The steam propeller "Peace," owned by the Dravo Contracting Company, went up the river on Tuesday, having in tow the first iron barge ever in service on the Monongahela river. This barge, which measures 24x130 and 8 feet deep, was built by W. H. Brown's Sons Co. at that time one of the largest coal operating firms in the valley and which also owned the first iron-hull steamboat to operate on western waters.

The old barge, in spite of its 53 or more years of activity is still in very good shape, and is capable of doing service for many years to come. It was on the way to one of the mines in the upper pools to be loaded with coal or the Dravo Company.

WILLINGLY GIVES

AN ENDORSEMENT

Rev. John Smith, Ph. D., chief clerk in the Department of Public Safety of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., said recently:

"I suffered from kidney trouble for over six years. Often when I would sit down for any length of time I could hardly rise from the chair because of the severe pains in my back which seemed to hold me rigid. When I would stand for a time I got the same pains right in the small of my back. This condition caused me much suffering.

"I read of the wonderful relief local people had got through taking Tanlac, so I decided to try a bottle. I noticed that it was benefiting me after taking only one-half of the bottle. I have now finished three bottles and at the present time I suffer out no longer. In fact, I spent eight days in camp with the First Regiment of Patriotic Order Sons of America and participated in all the drills without suffering from any pains, thanks to Tanlac.

"I now recommend Tanlac because I found it exactly as represented to me."

The genuine Tanlac bearing name J. I. Gore Co., is sold by Frank J. John and Pipers Pharmacy.

FRENCH SACRIFICE FOR LIBERTY HEROIC

Six millions of French sons have offered their lives that democracy might live. 30 million other French men and women sacrificed their all for the same purpose. America's debt of gratitude to France for this is very great. We also are indebted to her for an invaluable remedy for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments discovered by her peasants, which it is reported has saved many American lives and prevented thousands of surgical operations. Geo. H. Mayr, for many years a prominent Chicago chemist, imports the ingredients and sells this remedy under the name of Wine of Woodruff. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Pipers Pharmacy, Carroll's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere.

NEW YORK MUSIC TEACHER

Says "Vinol Cures Chronic Coughs"

New York City, 21 Nicholas Avenue—"I teach piano and singing and when suffering from chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis, I use Vinol as I find pictures when other remedies fail."—Henry Albers.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such conditions is because it is a constitutional remedy containing beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptones and glycerophosphates. It strengthens and revitalizes the entire system and assists nature to expel the disease.

We know of many such cases. Pipers Drug Store and druggists everywhere.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT WALK

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her to Health.

Perth Amboy, N.J. — "For three years I suffered with a severe female trouble, was nervous, had backache and a pain in my side most of the time. I had dizzy spells and was often so faint I could not walk across the floor. The doctor said I would have to have an operation. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my newspaper, and I tried it. It did not take long to feel strong. I was able to walk and I feel like a new woman. I am now able to do all my housework and I feel like a new woman. I am now able to do all my housework and I feel like a new woman. I am now able to do all my housework and I feel like a new woman."

For forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.
